All orders or communications, addressed as above, or to Mr. ROBERT GUY, 217, Brickfield-hill, will be punctually attended to. 514

INTERESTING FACT.—The following singular and authentic case of restoration of the human hair is worthy of observation, more particularly as it relates to an article of high and universal repute during the last half century. Mr. A. Hermann, of Queen-street, Soho, had been quite bald for some time past, and had tried various preparations for the recovery of his hair, but without any beneficial result. He was then induced to try the effects of "Rowland's Macassar Oil;" and, after daily applying it for about two months, he, much to his gratification, had his hair quite restored, and now possesses a beautiful head of hair. This fact speaks too strongly for itself to require comment.—Bell's Weekly Messenger.
ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL is celebrated throughout the world for its genial and nourishing qualities for the human hair. For children it is especially recommended, as forming the basis of a beautiful head of hair, and rendering the use of the fine comb unnecessary.
Price 3s. 6d. and 7s.; family bottles (equal to four small) 10s 6d.; and double that size, 21s. per bottle.
CAUTION.—The words "Rowland's Macassar Oil" are engraved in two lines on the wrapper; and on the back of the wrapper nearly 1500 times, containing 29,028 letters.
Sold by C. M. Penny, H. Mace, A. Foss' P. F. Morgan, and J. Row, chemists; Robinson and Pearson, hairdressers; Messrs. Hamburgher and Sons, George-street; Richard Macdonald, 438, George-street; Mr. Joseph Marshall, Chemist and Druggist, William-street, Woolloomooloo; and wholesale by Daniel Cooper, jun., Sydney. 6382

WEDNESDAY, 13th April.
Real Property, and a certain income.
MOST VALUABLE BLOCK OF TWELVE HOUSES AND PREMISES,
In the centre of the city.
Comprising—
4 Brick Houses in Clarence-street, part of Clarence-terrace, next Mr. Little's property, at the corner of King and Clarence streets.
House in York-street, weather-board and brick-nogged.
3 Brick Houses, on stone foundation and foot base-course, two stories high, newly built.
2 Brick Cottages, about two years built, and
2 Cotages, brick-nogged and stuccoed—in the rear of the above houses, about midway between King-street and the Wesleyan Centenary Chapel, York-street.
The property forming an entire block, extending through from York to Clarence-street, the depth being 176 feet, by 56 feet frontage to Clarence-street, and 44 feet 9 inches frontage to York street, as per plan, by Mr. Surveyor Bemi, to be seen at the Auctioneers' sale room.

PURKIS AND LAMBERT have been favoured with instructions from George Weakley, Esq. (who is only parting with it on account of leaving the colony), to dispose of the above first-class property, at their Rooms, No. 451, George-street, on WEDNESDAY, 13th April, immediately after the sale of the Druitt and Kent-street properties, advertised for 12 o'clock precisely,
IN ONE LOT,
or more, as may suit the convenience of buyers.
This SPLENDID PROPERTY is bounded on the north by Messrs. Little, Josephson, and M'Quade's properties, and on the south by Wall's grant.
CLARENCE-STREET.
The four Brick Houses, part of Clarence-terrace, all built with 14 inch walls, in good order, fresh shingled about four years since. They each contain four rooms—viz., two on the ground floor and two above; being Nos. 3, 4, 5, and 6 of block D on the plan; occupied by Messrs. Thomas Willis, Henry Blackler, James Madden, and G. Champion, at the low rental of £1 each per week. The water is laid on to each house. Frontage of the whole to Clarence-street 56 feet by 71 feet depth.
YORK-STREET.
North side of Lucas and Bayley's stores, midway between the Wesleyan Centenary Chapel and King-street.
A Weatherboard, brick-nogged, and stuccoed DWELLING HOUSE, containing eight rooms, fronting York-street, occupied by Mr. John Mellett; rental £1 17s. per week.
BLOCK A PER PLAN.
Three brick Houses, on stone foundations and foot base course, two story high, stuccoed outside, containing two rooms each, one room below and one above, about two years built; rental 9s. each per week.
BLOCK B PER PLAN.
Two brick Cottages, stuccoed outside, each containing two rooms, built about two years since; rental 6s. each per week.
BLOCK C PER PLAN.
Two Cottages, brick-nogged, stuccoed outside, containing two rooms each; rental 7s. each per week. The water is laid on to the above houses.
Frontage of the whole 44 feet 9 inches to York-street, from which there is the convenence of a side entrance by 105 feet depth, and 87 feet 6 inches width at the back, affording ample room for the erection of spacious stores in the very heart of the city.
NOTE.—The Party Wall between Mr. M'Quade's property and Mr. Weakley's, in York-street, is for the joint use of both parties, with liberty to build on or against it—a consideration of great value and importance to any purchaser who may be inclined to build over the side entrance.
 The auctioneers feel it unnecessary to offer any lengthy comment upon the value or merits of first-class property like the above, as in the worst of times, and when Sydney was half deserted for California a few years since, these houses were then all occupied; and being in the very centre of the city, their importance needs not to be dwelt upon. And when unproductive waste land, far from the centre of the city, realises £46 per foot frontage, as was the case only a few days since, what value per foot can be put upon improved property, such as that under notice, the rental of which alone is worth at least £500 per annum, and is capable of considerable augmentation?
Terms—Twenty-five per cent. cash deposit, the residue on completion of the conveyance, within ten days from the day of sale.
Title, unexceptionable.
Full particulars of which may be learnt on application to Messrs. Dunsmure and Stafford, Solicitors, Castlereagh-street. 258

EXTENSIVE AND COMMODIOUS PREMISES, Lately known as the
"GOLDEN FLEECE INN,"
Situate and lying in the important and growing Town of Merriwa.
MR. JEREMIAH LEDSAM has been honoured with instructions from Doctor M'Cartney to sell by public auction, at the house of Mr. Isaac Gorrick, proprietor of the "Fitz Roy Hotel," High-street, West Maitland, on MONDAY, the 11th day of April, 1853, at 12 o'clock noon,
All that parcel of Land, containing by admeasurement 2½ acres, situate and lying in the town of Merriwa, Gammon Plains, District of Cassilis, and County of Bligh, on which is erected the House and premises lately known as the "GOLDEN FLEECE INN, where Mr. John Perfrement speedily realised a fortune.
The house is a ligneous building, and contains 11 rooms, two detached rooms, and detached kitchen, also a first-rate stable.
The land attached to these late business premises consists of half an acre of vineyard, and a garden well stocked with fruit trees.
On the premises is a well, sunk through 40 feet of solid rock, affording an unfailing supply of the purest water in all seasons.
Immediate possession will be given.
Title—A purchase from the Crown.
Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit on the fall of the hammer; residue by bills at 3, 6, 9, and 12 months, with 7 per cent. interest added.
Mr. Ledsam respectfully invites the attention of the public to the sale now advertised of these valuable premises, and which cost the present proprietor in their erection a large outlay of capital. Merriwa is a post town, 100 miles from Maitland, 15 miles from Pebberdys, 25 miles from Cassilis, and 70 miles from Mudgee, on the Great Northern Road to the Gold Fields—the Louisa, Meroo, Turon, Tambaroura, &c.,—and is surrounded by the stations and the estates of gentlemen unsurpassed for magnificence and splendour in the northern districts. An opportunity now presents itself to the man of enterprise to acquire a property designed and adapted for an inn, where, by ordinary attention to business, he cannot fail to do as his predecessor has done, namely, realise a fortune.
The property may be acquired on most advantageous terms. 415

Golden Land, for London, with 113 passengers, 210 bales wool, 2632 ozs. gold.

Portland.—Departure: March 14. Runnymede, for London.

Belfast.—Departure: March 14. Ann Bridson, for London, with 1035 bales wool, 35 packages sheepskins.

The passengers by the Sybil, from St. John's, Newfoundland, are owners of the vessel, having purchased her for the express purpose of bringing themselves and their baggage to the Land of Gold.—The passengers by the Limehouse to Geelong are also gold-seeking adventurers, the majority of whom are Creoles.—Captain Simpson, who arrived yesterday in the General Palmer, from Hongkong, has on board several cases of rare Chinese plants, as well as some rare and valuable birds, fowls, &c.—Argus.

H. N. M. S. Sumatra.—This smart little ship quietly left Hobson's Bay on Saturday morning for Sydney. Previous to her departure, the following note was handed to our reporter, to use as he thought fit:—"H. N. M. S. Sumatra: the commander and officers of the above ship, on leaving Port Phillip, express their satisfaction of the kindness received during their stay in this port, and now take their farewell with feelings of sincere satisfaction.—Argus.

No less than fourteen Lascars belonging to the Limehouse are now under confinement, having been apprehended in Geelong and the suburbs by the police, for desertion. It was expected that the master of the vessel would proceed on Saturday to make his complaint before the Bench; but not appearing when called upon, the Indians were ordered to be locked up again. Some of these fellows were suffering severely from a scorbutic affection of the arms and legs, and many of them complain of very harsh treatment on board by the captain. They state that frequently, upon the smallest fault being committed, they were subjected to "rope's-ending," and showed the scars upon their backs in verification. They also complain that on their voyage here they were denied fresh water to cook their rice with, which, if true, at once accounts for the scorbutic appearance of the men.—The works of the steamer Melbourne are rapidly progressing towards completion, and she will, in all probability, commence running about Tuesday or Wednesday next.—Geelong Commercial Gazette.

Homeward Bound.—The Ann Bridson, our third wool ship of the present season, will probably sail for London on Monday next. She has had all her cargo on board for some days, consisting principally of wool, the house of Rutledge and Co. alone shipping about 1370 bales. The same firm will thus have exported this season about 4200 bales, and have still a considerable quantity in store.—Belfast Gazette, March 17.

The Steam-ship Shamrock.—A few days ago we awarded the praise due to the Cleopatra for the expeditious manner in which her last trip from Sydney and Adelaide was performed. It has now become our duty to award the feats of our old colonial friend the Shamrock, which, under her first and subsequent commander, has faced successfully many heavy seas on the Australian coast. She sailed from here on the 19th March, and made the passage from Heads to Heads in fifty-four hours; her return has likewise been a speedy one, having left Sydney Heads at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening, the 23rd March, and anchored in Port Phillip Heads at eight o'clock on Saturday night, making seventy-three hours. Her appearance in the Bay yesterday morning took everybody by surprise, as she was neither seen nor heard until close up. Saw the barque Queen of England off the Shamrock on Saturday last; the captain wished to be reported "all well." The Fettercairn was to sail the day after the Shamrock, and the Cleopatra on Saturday.—Melbourne Herald.

A large portion of the cargo of the Lucia Maria is for Adelaide, to which port she will proceed, on discharging that part of it consigned to merchants here. The Dolores, from Valparaiso, via Otahiti, has had a rather protracted passage, calling at Twofold Bay, where she replenished her stock, and landed some passengers. Capt. Throop reports that the Charles Edward, whaling ship, when going out of the harbour of Papiti, in charge of a pilot, struck on a reef, where she remained about fifteen minutes, bumping heavily; she was afterwards towed inside again, but evidently sinking fast.—The Cleopatra has made another successful trip to Sydney and back. The run from Heads to Heads was accomplished in 72 hours, the Cleopatra having anchored off Shortland's Bluff on Tuesday evening. H. M. S. Calliope anchored in Hobson's Bay on Wednesday evening. The Calliope's stay here will not, we believe, exceed a few days, when she proceeds on her cruise to the neighbouring colonies.—The Clipper ship Queen of Sheba. Notwithstanding the large amount of money depending on the upshot of the match between the Anna Dixon and Sea Witch, and the keen competition existing in this line of traders for months past, Captain Hingston, in the above ship, has succeeded in carrying away the palm of victory, although not peculiarly interested in the race: thus placing another victory to the account of the famous Queen of Sheba. We may here remark that the three vessels all left the lightship, Adelaide, together, but since parting company, neither the brig nor schooner have been seen by the ship; by a fore-and-aft schooner from Adelaide, bound here, the Sanspareil was spoken on Friday last.—Argus.

Geelong.—Arrivals: March 18. Sybil, from Newfoundland, via the Cape, in ballast; Limehouse, from the Mauritius. 22. Lucia Maria, from Liverpool 16th November, with 47 passengers. Cargo—26 hogsheads rum, 200 firkins butter, 545 quarter and 900 one-eighth-boxes soap, 50 tons salt, 61 barrels 122 boxes 20 kegs oilmen's stores, 21 hogsheads rum, 100 firkins butter, 20 quarter-casks wine, 200 barrels flour, 154 hogsheads 286 barrels 37 casks 50 cases beer, and sundries; Munford, from Wellington, New Zealand. 29. Shamrock, from Sydney. Departures: March 19. Electro, for London. Cleared out: March 24. Windermere, for London, with 26 passengers, 1808 bales wool, 24 casks tallow, 2 bales sheepskins, 2071 oz. gold.

The Seargo has had a good run from New York, bringing a number of passengers, and a moderate cargo, for this port. The Albus ship is reported to have sailed for this port, from New York, previous to the Seargo. The Bothnia was to sail from New York in a few days for this port; the Alert, Captain Thomas, was advertised for Port Phillip or Sydney, to sail 20th December; the Baltimore, ship, was to succeed the Seargo.—Argus.

VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Launceston.—Arrivals: March 16. Annie, from Port Louis, with 40 cases sardines, 2 cases and 10,000 cigars, 40 barrels flour 2927 bags sugar, 20 cases gin, 2 casks and 120 cases brandy, 2 casks rum, 6 cases hats. 17. Fanny, from Newcastle. Departures: March 18. Jane Frances, for London, with 1031 bales wool, 18 cwt. old copper, 61 tons copper ore, 61 tons bark.

Captain Gilmore's Fine.—Captain Gilmore having placed in the hands of the Attorney-General of Victoria a certificate of the freedom of the man in respect of whom he was fined, the Williams Town Bench have rescinded their decision.

New Steam Navigation Company.—A Company is being formed here, with a capital of £5000, in shares of £10, for the purpose of sending to England for a steam vessel, adapted for service as a tug on the Tamar, and for the coasting trade.—Launceston Examiner.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

Adelaide.—Arrivals: March 15. Osprey, from Singapore—cargo, 2029 bags sugar, 229 bags rice, 662 bags coffee, 1105 chests 817 boxes tea, 20 boxes 57 cases cigars, 150 boxes sago, 42 packages furniture, 1200 cocoa-nuts, 70 cases preserves, 25 bags pepper, &c.; Yarmouth, from Sydney. 17. Melbourne, A.R.M. steamer, from Sydney via Melbourne; Major Eastland, from Sydney. 18. Cheshire Witch, and James Gibson, from Sydney; Punch, from Singapore 17th January—cargo, 1631 bags sugar, 916 packages tea, 222 bags coffee, 167 bags rice, 91 boxes sago, 20 boxes pepper, 29 boxes nutmegs, 16 boxes cloves, 20 cases brandy, 4 hogsheads rum, 664 cedar planks, 1893 cocoa-nuts, and sundries; Ann Paulona, from Liverpool 15th November, with 32 passengers—cargo, 401 tons patent fuel, 660 boxes soap, 49 tons salt, and sundries.

The William, from Launceston, left 16 hours later than the Giraffe, and Captain M'Kinley has furnished us with one day's later papers.

The Corsair, from San Francisco, was originally bound for Port Phillip, but put into port at the request of the passengers, who wish to remain in Sydney. She sailed from San Francisco 7th January, Honolulu 7th February, Navigator's Islands 6th, and Norfolk Island 22nd March, having called at the various places for provisions.

The Mary and Ellen passed the Don Juan and Phantom yesterday off Cape Howe.

The Ebenezer reports the Sumatra, Dutch man-of-war, outside the Heads yesterday evening from Port Phillip.

The A. R. M. S. Melbourne cleared out at Adelaide on the 18th March for King George's Sound, Cape, and Plymouth, with 91 passengers from Sydney and Melbourne, and 26 from Adelaide. She shipped 10,770 oz. of gold at Adelaide, besides that taken from Sydney and Melbourne.

The Henry Tanner, for London, cleared out at Adelaide on 15th March, with 19 passengers, and 16,864 oz. gold.

The Giraffe, from Launceston, has had a continuance of northerly gales since leaving. Spoke the Waterwitch, brig, 33 days out, port unknown, on the 2nd instant, bearing south. Saw steamer Chusan on 3rd instant, at 6 a.m., off Bateman's Bay. The Fancy, barque, from Newcastle, arrived at Launceston on the 19th ultimo. The Gratitude would leave about the 28th, for Sydney. The Duke of Wellington and Jane Francis, both bound for London, were coming down the river when the Giraffe sailed.

The Shamrock, steamer, has no gold on board this trip. The Shamrock left Melbourne on the 1st instant, at 6 p.m. She reports the arrival of the Fettercairn, hence the 28th ultimo, on that day. The Shamrock still maintains her name for punctuality and despatch, having made two trips to Melbourne and back to this port in 23 days.

Our Quarantine Laws.—Upon the arrival of the ship Pacific here on Thursday last, she was boarded by various parties before the Health Officer had time to pay his official visit. When Dr. Alleyne arrived, and it was reported to him that some cases of small pox had occurred soon after the ship leaving San Francisco, he ordered the ship to be placed in quarantine. Before this order was given, one of the visitors from the shore, Mr. Arthur Cubitt, had left the vessel; and the circumstances having been officially reported to the authorities, an information was filed against him, and a warrant issued for his apprehension; but upon being apprised of the error which he had committed, Mr. Cubitt at once surrendered himself to the Water Police, and was yesterday morning conducted to the Quarantine Ground.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

VICTORIA.

We are in possession of a fortnight's file of Melbourne journals, but we are afraid that we cannot extract from them much readable matter. The expediency of fortifying the Heads had begun to be a subject of serious consideration; and upon this point the Melbourne Herald puts forth the following remarks:—

The necessity for some sort of fortification at the Heads, to which we adverted not many days ago, appears the more urgent the more we reflect upon it. "War with France," is a cry so often raised that we are apt to forget that the wolf is none the less likely to come at last for having been the repeated occasion of false alarms. If we reflect on the present aspect of European politics, and eliminate the unreasonable portion of our feelings of security we shall perceive that we are at present by no means free from risk. The chances may be against war, but we fancy sporting politicians would at most not offer very heavy odds on the subject; and in the event of war, the chances would be much in favour of our seeing it rather more closely than it is at all desirable. For many years past Englishmen have become so accustomed to regard war as an evil, almost exclusively felt through those nerves that connect the heart and the pocket, that its direct horrors do not readily rise to our imagination as likely to be visited upon ourselves. Burning towns and destroyed harvests, and plunder and violence, have ceased to be considered by Englishmen as matters of personal apprehension in time of war. The broad continent and the boundless seas have constituted the fields on which England has fought her battles of late, and in the division of European labour it has become a regular and understood thing that, by paying a fair share of blood and money, England shall be exempted from the more immediate horrors of war. Such has been the case since a period far more remote than that which saw the first settlement of Australia, and the disposition to trust our wooden walls and armies abroad in time of war has been common to ourselves and our forefathers for some generations past.

However just and well founded such confidence may still be in England, it would be much the reverse here. A colony so important as this has recently become would almost certainly be regarded as one of the prizes to be fought for, although in our present condition it would simply fall to the first squadron that thought it worth while to make the seizure. No doubt many of our readers will regard this as very foolish alarmist doctrine, but the feeling implied in so viewing the question is chiefly owing to a certain misapprehension which could not endure long in minds sufficiently aroused to the subject to give it regular and definite consideration. We tacitly trust to our distance from the head-quarters of European war for such delay before its tide could reach us as would enable us to take steps for our defence. But the delay that must occur before the tide reached us, would be no greater than that which would occur before news of the declaration of war could reach us. It would be a race between the vessel which should bring us news of the birth of this calamity, and the one which should bring the calamity itself upon us. The last news that reached us from England inform us that war with France would not come unexpectedly at a week's notice; to-morrow a couple of French frigates may provide us, in a most unpleasant way, with irresistible arguments, showing how well founded this apprehension was. In one of the last speeches which the earl of Derby made in his capacity of Premier, he urged the opinion of the late Duke of Wellington, that every nation should have within itself those means of self-defence and self-independence, which should not provoke aggression by its weakness—more especially if to that weakness be added the possession of unbounded wealth." If we do not come within the catalogue of "nations," the elements of wealth and weakness are at least sufficiently conspicuous here to expose us most obviously to the danger referred to.

It is of course quite true (and quite apart from the purpose) that England owes us protection; but to refuse to take any care of our own safety on this account would be to emulate the conduct of the Thames wherryman, who lost his life by refusing to row out of the way of the steamboat, saying he "threw the responsibility entirely upon them." It would be a very poor comfort to us after a visit from French men-of-war to reflect that England should have taken precautions against such a catastrophe.

Turning to lighter matters, we find that Mr. Daly has made a great impression upon the minds of the susceptible Melbournians, and that he has been successful in defying them to open their eyes.

TASMANIA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Launceston, Thursday, March 24th.—In a recent letter I mentioned the formation of a Company here for the purpose of working a seam of coal which had been discovered near the mouth of the river Mersey. It may be interesting to most of your readers, and especially to those connected with the Newcastle coal trade, to know further particulars relative thereto, which I am now enabled to furnish.

This is not the first discovery of the existence of coal which has been made in Van Diemen's Land. We have long had supplies of coal from the Government mines at Port Arthur; and a seam on the Douglas River has been worked for some time by a company of gentlemen resident in Hobart Town. Hitherto, however, the inferiority of the Tasmanian coal brought into the market, and the shortness of the supplies, has rendered us dependent upon Newcastle for the constant supply of this necessary article. A few days ago there were no less than five large vessels in this harbour discharging coals from Sydney, viz., the Halcyon, William, Giraffe, Gratitude, and Fanny. The steamers coaling here, however, keeps up the price of the article, which now realises upwards of £5 the ton, with the probability as winter advances of a still further increase of price.

It is asserted by the sanguine supporters of the new scheme, and I believe with some degree of truth, that in the course of a few months Port Frederick will enter into active competition with Newcastle, and that the Launceston Company will be enabled to send an article into the market better adapted for "steaming" and for domestic purposes, and at a lower rate.

Report speaks well as to its quality, and of its abundance there can be no doubt whatever. Blacksmiths, the best judges on such matters, pronounce it "first-rate." One, indeed, in my hearing, went so far as to say it was greatly preferable to charcoal, in cases in which great heat was requisite. Families who have used small quantities of it for domestic purposes, also give a favourable judgment. But perhaps the best evidence that can be adduced upon the subject is the following, which I obtained yesterday from the lips of Mr. Latham, engineer of the Clarence steamship. He told me that on her last trip she was supplied with four tons of the Mersey coal, with which she steamed down to George Town, having still a quantity upon her decks. Upon his arrival at the Heads, the steam was quickly got up, and though the vessel was much lower in the water than usual, she effected the distance within the average time. Mr Latham declares it to be the best coal he ever steamed with. He had his furnace doors open all the time he was burning the Mersey coal, which he could not have done with another colonial coal. Altogether he much prefers the new coal to that hitherto supplied to the steamers from New South Wales.

If this statement be substantially correct, of which I have no reasonable doubt, it at once establishes the value of the discovery. Its local circumstances will effect the rest. The works of the Company are elevated about four miles from the place of shipment, to which a tram road will be constructed, on an inclined plane, the loaded descending waggons drawing up the empty ascending ones. The mouth of the Mersey is only 25 miles from the Tamar Heads, and Port Frederick is the nearest shipping port to Victoria, with which it already carries on a considerable trade in timber.

Mersey shares are at a premium, and the land in the neighbourhood has risen in value.

The papers are altogether barren of news.

One of the men charged with the extensive gold robbery, lately committed in this town, has been convicted, and Mr. River has recovered a considerable portion of his missing property.

It is rumoured in town that coal has been found on the banks of the Tamar, a few miles from this place.

Some quartz, sent home by Mr. Gibson, manager of the Van Diemen's Land Company's estate, Circular Head, was found to contain sufficient gold to pay for the working, and he has been ordered by the directors to forward more for further experiments.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.

Monday, April 4.

Before the Chief Justice.

FRAUD.

John Spence, alias William Spence, was indicted for offering spurious metal for sale, and selling it to one Patrick Lee, on the 8th February last, under pretence of its being gold dust.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

The Attorney-General having stated the circumstances to the Jury, called

Patrick Lee, who deposed that he keeps a public house in Sussex-street; the prisoner came to his house in the month of February, in company with another man, and proposed to stop there for a week. After a few days he offered witness some dust, for which he asked £3 10s., although the price of gold was then £3 14s. 6d. an oz; prisoner said it was California gold, and was not worth so much as colonial gold; could not tell what was the weight, but at £3 10s. it came to £42; witness' wife gave prisoner the money, and deposited the stuff, which was in a leather bag, in a box. Next day she went to sell it, and she then discovered it was not gold.

Bridget Lee, wife of the last witness, corroborated the foregoing evidence. On the day after she bought the stuff, she went to the shop of Mr. Marks, of George-street, to sell it; Mr. Marks was not present, but came in subsequently, and declared it was spurious metal; he kept it, and sent a constable after her to watch where she went.

Mr. Jacob Marks, of George-street, deposed that on the 9th of February, he entered his shop, and perceiving some gold dust on the counter, asked his clerk what stuff he had got there, as at first he suspected it was not gold. (The metal was here produced and identified by the witness.) He applied oxalic acid to it, and discovered that it was not gold—it was a mixture of copper, silver, and other substances, thinly coated with gold. Its value might be worth £3 an ounce. It was in fact manufactured gold. There was probably more gold in it than either silver or copper. Subsequently, Mrs. Lee came into the office from an adjoining shop; witness told her it was not gold, and called in Mr. M'Lerie, who happened to be passing, and gave him information of the circumstance.

John Williams, clerk to Mr. Marks, proved that Mrs. Lee brought the gold to him for sale, and he bought it of her, but he could not pay for it until Mr. Marks came in. When he came in he said it was spurious gold, and called in Mr. Salamon, the auctioneer, who said it was spurious. Witness bought it of her as California gold, for £3 6s. 6d. an ounce. The stuff was replaced in a leather bag, in which it was when Mrs. Lee brought it.

John M'Lerie, Esq., proved that on the 9th February Mr. Marks called him into his office and showed him some spurious gold which had been offered to him for sale. The prisoner was subsequently committed on the charge of selling a spurious article. From information he had received he instructed a constable to search a portmanteau belonging to the prisoner, at the Rose of Australia public house, where a bag containing nuggets of spurious gold were found.

Constable Lawless proved having obtained from a portmanteau which was at Mr. Cameron's, the Rose of Australia, a leather bag containing some nuggets of gold. (They were of a similar nature to the stuff produced in Court.)

The prisoner, in defence, stated that he bought the gold in California from a man whom he had known for two or three years; and he had no suspicion that it was spurious metal.

His Honor carefully summed up, pointing out to the Jury that the prisoner could not be convicted upon the evidence, since the fraudulent intention had not been proved; and the question as the value of the gold was undetermined.

The Jury acquitted the prisoner.

His Honor discharged the prisoner; and in answer to a question from the Attorney-General as to the disposal of the gold, expressed his opinion that it was the property of Mrs. Lee, who bought it; but he would make no order either as to the disposal of the gold, or of the money found on the prisoner when he was apprehended. It would be for him to make his application to the Superintendent of Police, who would no doubt receive advice on the subject from the Crown Law Officers.

FORGERY.

John Townsend was indicted for forging the name of Edward Hargreaves to a cheque for £9 5s., with intent to defraud the Commercial Bank.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Edward Hargreaves, of New England, deposed that the prisoner was a hired servant of his brother. Had never authorised prisoner to sign his name. The draft produced, purporting to be signed by him, was not in his handwriting. Had two brothers, named Richard and Henry, but knew no other person of the name of Hargreaves in New England.

Peter Charles Murphy, chief constable at Port Macquarie, deposed that on the 21st of January he went into Doyle's public-house, at Port Macquarie. Mrs. Doyle showed him the cheque now produced, and asked him if he thought it was good. He said he did not think so. Prisoner was in the next room. Witness called him in, and asked him where he got the cheque. Prisoner said he got it from Mr. Edward William Hargreaves, of New England. Next day he apprehended the prisoner, who admitted to him that he had forged the cheque on the spur of the moment, in order to pay a debt he owed to Mrs. Doyle.

The prisoner cross-examined the witness, but without eliciting anything of importance.

Samuel Henry Cohen, of Port Macquarie, proved that the prisoner offered him the cheque produced on Saturday, the 22nd of February, asking him to cash it. He said he would; but when he saw the signature, he doubted its being genuine. Prisoner wanted £3 for it. He asked the prisoner to endorse it, which he did; and witness then saw that his handwriting was the same as that in the body of the cheque.

Mr. Henry Brinley, a clerk in the Commercial Bank, proved that no account existed at that bank in the name of Hargreaves.

The learned Judge, in summing up, said the case rested entirely upon the credibility of the witnesses. The case, if they were to be believed, was perfectly clear against the prisoner.

The Jury immediately returned a verdict of guilty.

In answer to a question from the Chief Justice, Chief Constable Murphy stated that the prisoner bore a very indifferent character. He had been a convict, having come to the colony in 1834 by the Rosslyn Castle.

His Honor sentenced him to six years' hard labour on the roads.

HORSE-STEALING.

Henry Brown was indicted for stealing a mare, the property of Alexander Forbes, on the 26th December last.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

The Attorney-General briefly opened the case.

Alexander Forbes deposed that he resided at Wollombi, near Singleton; on the 13th of December last, he missed a light bay mare from his paddock, and never saw her again until the 26th February, when he saw her at the Police Office at Windsor.

William Hobbs, chief constable of Windsor, proved the apprehension of the prisoner on suspicion of horse-stealing, by his directions; had seen the prisoner riding a light bay mare about for several days under suspicious circumstances. In a Hue and Cry he had seen a description of a light bay mare, which was missing; and he knew the mare to be the one advertised; prisoner, on being questioned, said he had bought the mare from a man named Thomas Ryan. Constable Michael Raper proved apprehending the prisoner on the 21st January last; another man was apprehended at the same time,

The prisoner, in defence, made a rambling statement, and produced a receipt, which he said was given him for the purchase money of the mare; he also handed in a paper purporting to be a certificate of character signed by Mr. Dawson and Mr. H. Glennie, but was not read, the Attorney-General objecting that there was nothing to show that it was genuine.

His Honor having briefly charged the jury, they returned a verdict of guilty.

The prisoner was remanded for sentence, the learned Judge undertaking to enquire into the circumstances of the alleged purchase of the mare by the prisoner from Ryan.

LARCENY.

James Haggarty was indicted for stealing certain articles, the property of Mr. F. H. Beamish and Mary Cartwright, on the night of the 4th March last.

The Attorney-General stated the circumstances of the case.

Sergeant Francis Adams deposed that on the morning of the 4th of March, about 4 or 5 o'clock, he was aroused by cries of "Thieves—Robbers!" On going out he saw several persons in great excitement, who told him that a man had been robbing several houses in the neighbourhood. Upon making a search, he found the prisoner concealed among the wood in the yard of his own (witness') premises, in Elizabeth-street South; dragged him out, and then saw a bundle with him containing a great variety of articles. (They were produced and turned out on the floor of the Court.) Took him into custody, and lodged him in the watchhouse. Subsequently a Mr. Morgan gave him a small bundle containing some jewellery, which was found in the wood where the prisoner was concealed.

Mr. Alfred Farrar deposed, that on the morning of the 4th March, seeing a light through his bedroom window which appeared to be in the kitchen, he got up, and opening the window he saw a man in a rough great coat in the kitchen. Called out to him three times, but the man ran away, and got over one of the neighbouring fences, but returned, not being able to get over a wall which was a little further off. Witness then went out, and making a search, he found a rough coat and some other articles. He identified them among the articles produced in Court. Lost sight of the man until he was apprehended in Sergeant Adams' yard, three or four houses off.

Mr. F. H. Beamish identified several of the articles now produced, as his property, viz., some shirts, a pair of boots, and a handkerchief.

Mr. Joseph Morgan, lodging in the house of Mr. Farrar, identified the articles, which he saw on the night in question, at the time the prisoner was apprehended, on the spot.

The prisoner made a lame defence; and His Honor having summed up, the jury convicted the prisoner of stealing Mr. Beamish's property. He was sentenced to five years' hard labour on the roads. The other charge, not being proved, the prisoner was formally acquitted.

The same prisoner was again arraigned on a charge of stealing several trifling articles, the property of one Henry Chattle at Redfern; and also, for stealing six silver spoons, the property of Charles Nightingale, of Strawberry Hill. Mr. Chattel and Mr. Nightingale being called did not appear; and the learned Judge ordered their recognizances to be estreated.

The Court adjourned until this day, at 10 o'clock.

Jurors fined for non-attendance, H. W. Johnson, £3; Charles Kemp, £5.

There will be two courts this day, and every juryman is required to be in attendance at 10 o'clock

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

SYDNEY EXCHANGE COMPANY.

A Meeting of the Shareholders of this Company, was held yesterday, Mr. J. S. Willis in the chair, for the purpose of considering the propriety of increasing the capital of the Company,. The following report was read by Mr. Dawes:—

REPORT.

Since the Special General Meeting of the Corporation, held on the twenty-fourth of February last, at which a progress Report was read and adopted, the Directors have elected Mr. John Gilchrist as Chairman of the Corporation, instead of Mr. John Lamb, who had resigned.

The Directors have been for some time, and are still, in communication with the local Government, as to the terms and conditions upon which the grant of land will be issued by the Crown, and the Directors have every reason to believe that an arrangement will be effected upon terms most advantageous to the Corporation.

A negotiation has been concluded with Mr. Hilly, the architect, for the superintendence of the erection of the building, at a commission of five per cent. upon the actual outlay: and the work of excavating and removing the soil from the site of the Exchange is in progress, and has become necessary, with a view to enable the architect to estimate the cost of at once erecting the walls of the proposed building, with vaults and cellars for immediate occupation at a rental.

The Directors have to report that the whole of the original capital has been subscribed for, and they have thought it desirable to make a second call of two pounds ten shillings per share thereon. This second call was payable on or before the thirty-first day of March last, and has been generally answered, which has placed in the hands of the Corporation the sum of £2830 1s 6d.

In order to carry out the views explained by the Directors at the last Special General Meeting of the Corporation, and adopted thereat, the Directors have thought it expedient at this time to avail themselves of the power given to the Corporation by their Act of Council, and to extend their capital by the addition of one thousand new shares of ten pounds each. This, if sanctioned, will enable the Corporation to take advantage of the very liberal assistance given by the Government in the valuable grant of land of which the Corporation are in possession, and to progress in the erection of the contemplated Exchange without check or interruption.

JOSEPH S. WILLIS, Chairman.

Sydney, 4th April, 1853.

After some conversation on matters of detail, in which Messrs. Peek, Alger, Rogers, and Hirst, took part, the Report was unanimously adopted.

Supreme Court.—The case of Richard v. Davis and another was to have been resumed at the opening of the Court yesterday, but this was rendered impossible by the serious illness of one of the jurors (Mr. Alexander) empanelled for the trial of that cause. The trial, therefore, was further adjourned until Friday morning. A second jury was then struck, and the case of Stewart v. Fullerton was proceeded with. This is an action to recover damages for an alleged want of sufficient care and skill on the part of the defendant in the management of a surgical case. It occupied the Court until its adjournment, and will probably last for a couple of days more. A good deal of interest being felt in this case, the Court has been pretty full, and the reporters have had good cause to complain of a species of annoyance from which they have often before suffered much. Their box, being in the vicinity of the Bar-table, is a favourite lounging place, not only for members of the legal profession, but for casual lookers-on—gentlemen of any profession or of no profession, who feel some passing interest in the proceedings, and prefer lounging about the reporter's box to taking a seat in those parts of the Court appropriated for their use. Mere hints are of no avail, and this nuisance is felt, more or less, nearly every day when the Court sits for the trial of causes, but doubly so while there is any case of interest on hand. It is strange that gentlemen cannot see the discourtesy, to say the least of it, which they are guilty of in intruding upon a space set apart for persons engaged in the performance of a particular duty. It is equally strange that gentlemen who lounge about the box, and gaze over the reporters' shoulders, do not see that they commit quite as great a breach of good manners as if they were to walk into the office of a man of business and look over his shoulder at the correspondence or accounts on which he might be engaged.

Water Police Office.—Yesterday, the Water Police Magistrate, and Mr. John Campbell were engaged the greater part of the morning in hearing a charge of assault preferred against Mr Longton, the chief officer of the ship William Prowse, by J. Alexander Wilson, one of the passengers by that vessel. Mr. Stafford (of Dunsmure and Stafford) appeared for the defence. It appears from the evidence, that the complainant, who it would seem from the manner in which he conducted himself in the witness box appeared to be of an excitable temperament, felt (as he himself said) irritated by a lady whilst at dinner in the cuddy, during the voyage hither from India; and that, thereupon, he rushed on deck, and conducted himself in a manner that induced the captain to order him off the poop. Refusing to go, the captain used force, and called upon the chief officer to assist him. Upon arriving in Sydney, the complainant brought an action in the Supreme Court against the Captain, but an adverse verdict was found by the jury. Failing before that tribunal, as regarded the captain, he now came to the inferior court and prayed justice against the mate. After a long and tedious investigation, during which several of the passengers were examined on the part of the complainant, Mr. Stafford declined to call any witnesses, expressing his regret that so trumpery a case should have occupied so much of the public time. The bench dismissed the case, but refused to allow the defendant costs.—The serang and nine black seamen belonging to the brigantine Packet were each sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment, for wilful disobedience of orders.

Escape.—Abraham Chapman and Robert Dunlop, two constables of the Newcastle police, were yesterday brought before the Sydney Bench for having permitted two prisoners, Archibald Campbell and Frederick Hyam, entrusted to their custody for escort from Newcastle to Sydney, to make their escape—it is supposed at the landing place in Sydney. The whole of the witnesses not being in attendance, the case was but partly heard.

Dray Robbery.—Thomas Susans, a drayman residing at Surry Hills, has reported to the police that on Saturday evening a portmanteau, containing wearing apparel, books, and papers, the property of Mr. F. H. Green, of Kent-street, was stolen from his dray. The loss is estimated by the owner at about £30.

Auction Sales this day.—We are particularly requested by Mr. Dean to call the attention of shippers, drapers, tailors, hatters, and country storekeepers, to his unreserved sale of seasonable goods, which takes place this day, at half-past 10 o'clock precisely. For further particulars, see our advertising columns.

Purkis and Lambert remind the public that they sell this day, at their mart, at 11 o'clock, superb flutinas, accordeons, leather covered trunks, velvet pile, leather, and carpet bags.

Violent Assault.—Maurice Walsh, of Campbell-street, publican, and Bridget, his wife, with John Piper, Bernard Neale, James Macdonald, James Delany, John Hopkins, Timothy Ryan, and Thomas Molloy, were yesterday brought before the Bench (the Mayor, Major Lockyer, and Captain Wingate, being the sitting magistrates), having been apprehended for a violent assault upon several privates of the 40th regiment, which took place at Walsh's house on Saturday evening. Mr. W. Roberts attended on behalf of Walsh and wife, Piper, Macdonald, and Neale. Sergeant M'Kay, of the mounted patrol, deposed that a few minutes after seven o'clock on Saturday evening, having received information of a row at Walsh's, he proceeded thither, accompanied by some troopers; he found one soldier lying outside the house, apparently dead; he apprehended or caused to be apprehended every one he found in the house—that is, all the prisoners at the bar except Ryan, who was apprehended at his own house by Sergeant Brigden; he did not see the female prisoner until he was in the act of taking Hopkins, when she came up with a candlestick in each hand, said she would not suffer any man to be taken prisoner in her house, and made blows at him with the candlesticks—she was made prisoner; Macdonald also endeavoured to strike him, but was prevented; neither of the others offered either to escape or to resist; he saw two soldiers carried away in a cart, and a third on a stretcher, several other soldiers appeared to be slightly wounded; all the prisoners appeared to be in a state of excitement, as if they had been fighting, Macdonald, Piper, Neale, and Delany, had blood upon them; Molloy's shirt was outside his trousers; none of the injured men charged the prisoners with assaulting him. By Mr. Roberts: The female prisoner was coming from the kitchen when she met and attempted to strike him with the candlesticks. Sergeant Brigden deposed to having apprehended Ryan; he said he took no part in the disturbance. Thomas Milton, of Mudgee, carrier, deposed that he lodged at Walsh's, between six and seven o'clock on Saturday evening he was present when a soldier came in and called for something to drink; Neale said he would treat him, and would not allow him to pay for it; shortly afterwards two other soldiers entered, one of whom entered into conversation with Mrs. Walsh; did not hear what he said, but she seemed annoyed, and several times told him that her name was Mrs. Walsh; the soldier danced round the room for a while, and then returning to the bar said, "I am a Tipperary man, and care for no one;" Walsh thereupon said he would have no row there, and went to put him out; the soldier then struck the man (Neale) who had treated his comrade and Delany; with the assistance of several others Walsh succeeded in putting the three soldiers out of the house: the door was closed, but not fastened; no more force was used than was necessary to put them out of the house; presently the soldiers re-entered the house—he could not positively say whether all three or two of the three returned; a fight immediately took place, but could not say who struck the first blow; could not recollect which of the prisoners were in it, nor whether they were all then there; the soldiers were again put out; every one engaged in the affair went outside the house at the same time with the ejected soldiers, the only persons left in the house being Mrs. Walsh, the fiddler (Ryan), and witness; on Walsh's return, an attack was made from without upon the windows, several of which were smashed; Walsh took up something like a stick from behind the bar, (a New Zealand war club, about 15 inches in length, with a knob at one end, twice the size of an ordinary fist, was produced;) he could not say that that is the weapon; it is about the same length, and may be the same; had not time to take such notice as to speak positively; Mrs. Walsh said to Walsh "For God's sake don't go out to them," when he said he was not to have his windows smashed in that manner; he went out; (a bar of flat iron, of about four feet in length, was now shown to witness) saw the bar in the hands of one of the men, but can't say whether one of the men in court, in the second row; it was such a "hurra row" that he thought more for his own safety than to take particular notice of what was done, or who did it; when Walsh went out with the stick, after the window smashing, he took the opportunity of leaving the house; saw no blow struck except with the fists in the house; when he went outside he saw a soldier lying on the road; at the time the window smashing commenced, the men that had been fighting were outside the house, no other person being inside but witness, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, and the fiddler (Ryan); the waddy has blood upon the head of it; the iron bar also has blood and human hair upon it. By the Bench: saw no blows struck by any one outside; did not wait, but walked away as quick as he could.—William Byford, private of the 40th, deposed that between 6 and 7 o'clock on Saturday, he and Patrick Spargeon (also of the 40th), were walking in the Haymarket, when they saw several soldiers, and a number of civilians near Walsh's public house; Spargeon went up to enquire what was the matter, and was met at the door by the landlord, who struck him a blow on the head with an iron bar, which knocked him down [witness was asked if he saw the landlord in Court, and pointed out the prisoner Piper]; the blow was repeated; a woman (pointing to the female prisoner) came out and struck Spargeon on the head with a bottle; both immediately returned into the house; there were many civilians about at the time, and several other soldiers, but neither of them did anything; two soldiers were lying on the ground when he (witness) and Spargeon arrived at the place; saw two soldiers who were not struck; Spargeon neither spoke nor moved after the first blow from the landlord; the bar produced is the weapon with which the blow was struck. By Mr. Roberts: Witness and Spargeon were not called to the spot by the soldiers, who were there before them; saw one soldier with his cap belt off; but the two on the road both had on their belts; may be mistaken, but believes Piper to be the man who struck Spargeon; did not see his face, but observed his black vest. Edward Cavenagh, private of the 11th, about dusk on Saturday evening was walking alone in the Haymarket, and saw that there had been a row at Walsh's, and saw two soldiers lying, one on the footway and the other in the road; went up to one, John Spargeon, and was in the act of raising his head when he received a blow across his hand from Walsh, with the iron bar produced; Walsh returned then to his house, and witness followed him until he saw his face; he took the bar into the house with him. Assistant-surgeon Ditmus, H. M. 40th Regiment, deposed that between eight and nine o'clock on Saturday evening, he visited the Hospital, and there found four men of the regiment who had been injured, as he understood, in an affray in town; found Patrick John Spargeon suffering from a very severe fracture on the left side the skull, the wound about two and half inches in length, and appeared to have been inflicted with a blunt instrument; a very severe injury also at the back of the head, which appeared to have been inflicted with a sharper instrument than the first, and not attended with fracture; the first mentioned might have been inflicted with such an instrument as the club produced, and the second with the bar of iron in court; believed Spargeon must have been insensible from the moment of receiving the first described injury, which it is extremely probable will terminate in death. Patrick Dixon he found with a large wound, of about four inches in length on the right side the skull, near the ear, attended with fracture; he is sensible, but in a state of considerable danger; three others are suffering from comparatively slight injuries about their heads and bodies, but are not in a state to attend and give evidence. The prisoners were then remanded until Thursday. Mr. Roberts applied for Walsh and wife to be admitted to bail, which however was refused by the Bench.

Committal.—George Capstick was yesterday brought before the Police Magistrate, charged by Mr. Robert Appleton with having some days since stolen a pair of pistols, his property. Prosecutor deposed that one day last week he went to prisoner's house, having the pistols in his pocket; soon after leaving he missed them; returned and inquired about them; both Capstick and his wife declared they had not seen any pistols; not being satisfied with this, he procured a warrant, which was executed by Sergeant Swainson, who found the pistols concealed under some rubbish in prisoner's back yard. Committed for trial.

Careless Driving.—James Owen yesterday appeared before the Police Magistrate and Mr. Wingate to answer an information for a breach of the Police Act, for having (as alleged) on the 2nd instant, driven so carelessly along George-street, that the safety of a girl named Cox was thereby endangered. Mr. Isaac Cox deposed that on Saturday he was crossing George-street near the Police Office, accompanied by Mrs. Cox, and his daughter, carrying an infant in her arms, following them; he saw defendant driving a gig, and called his attention to the children following him (Mr. Cox); he, however, either did not hear, or would not heed him, but drove on; the children were knocked down; defendant immediately pulled up. Sergeant Carroll deposed that defendant was driving at the rate of about six to seven miles an hour. Defendant said that it was an accident purely unavoidable, an omnibus and other carriages passing along at the time, and he did not see the children, though he remembered seeing the complainant and his wife. Fined 40s., and 2s. 6d. costs, or to be imprisoned for seven days.

Coroner's Inquest.—Yesterday, an inquest was held before the coroner, at the Three Tuns tavern, Elizabeth and King streets, on view of the body of William Linivold, then lying dead in the Sydney Infirmary. From the evidence of several witnesses it appears that the deceased was a native of Sweden, and about 60 years of age. He was employed at Barker's Mills, and although generally a sober man, he within the last few days had indulged overmuch in drink. Yesterday morning, when the bell rang for the workmen, an outcry was made that the old man was lying dead amongst the stones; and they hastening to the spot found that he was there lying and quite dead. Dr. Nathan stated that he had made a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased. On careful external examination, he could find no mark of bruise or mark of injury. The head and neck were livid with congestion; as was the brain. Under the arachnoid membrane and in the ventricles of the brain, there was considerable serous effusion. This produced an apoplectic fit, which was the cause of death. Upon examining the thoracic and abdominal viscera, he (Dr. Nathan) found nothing to have influenced deceased's last seizure. He (Dr. N.) thought that deceased had fallen down in a fit, and that if he had been lifted up immediately, and had proper medical treatment, his life might possibly have been saved. Verdict, died from apoplexy.

Davis v. Iceton.—We have been requested to publish the following, as a verbatim report of the remarks of Mr. Chambers in deciding this case:—Mr. Chambers: In the case of Davis v. Iceton, an information is filed complaining of the defendant publishing a libel against a certain company called the British Australian Gold Mining Company, also concerning the committee, and also concerning himself, Mr. Davis. The so called libel is contained in the letter of the 22nd November, 1852, and is addressed by Mr. Iceton, the defendant, to several of the members of the Legislative Council; and being in the nature of 7 objections to the passing an act to incorporate that company, of which Mr. Davis is the alleged commissioner. In dealing with this case, I am obliged to give my reasons for doing so. As I said before, there are seven allegations made as objections to the passing of this bill. The first and second allegations contain no libel, nor are the first and second allegations, as concerns the naked statement, denied by Mr. Davis. The third is not libellous, though it is denied by Mr. Davis. A part only of the third, I should say, is denied; that part in which it states that one of the four members stipulated for 500 shares to be given to a friend of his, who had introduced one or two of the directors to the promoters of the company, is not denied. Nor does it appear to me to be libellous to charge any particular offences. The fourth allegation is, that the London committee also performed the operation called rigging the market, that is for the purpose of having shares quoted at a premium, they employed brokers to buy the company's shares previous to the allotment of the shares, thus causing a fictitious value to those shares; that allegation is denied, and only affects the committee generally, and not the complainant; besides, in mercantile usage, though not a mercantile mode of doing business, I believe this mode of rigging the market is frequently done. To the fifth allegation, "that in order to obtain a standing on the Stock Exchange, they exhibited to the committee false accounts of the shares subscribed for, and money received, they made up a fictitious banking account;" that is clearly a malicious libel against the committee of the company, and every member of the committee would be at liberty to prosecute; but Mr. Davis does not deny that they committee made false accounts of the money subscribed, and made up a fictitious banking account, and not being denied I treat it as a standing truth. The sixth allegation is, "that they devided amongst themselves, in the name of commission, a sum of one shilling on each of the shares sold, including those which had been sold by rigging the market." This is denied; but according to the prevailing practices and usages of the London market of the Stock Exchange, it does not appear to me to be libellous. The seventh allegation is, "that by one of the bye-laws the committee were authorised to commence operations as soon as 50,000 shares had been subscribed for;" but this is not denied, or is there any thing libellous in it. As far as Mr. Davis, as commissioner, is affected, he had no authority independent of the board on the subject, and he was acting without the co-operation of the local board, which alone gave him any authority; so without going further into the matter, as he has not denied certain allegations which might be considered as libels, such as exhibiting false accounts, &c.,—and there are four or five allegations which to my mind are not libellous, under these circumstances I must dismiss the complaint. I need not go into the particulars of the apology; there was an apology which Mr. Iceton refused to sign, and which no gentleman possibly could sign. As for the communications between members of the Legislative Council, I do not interfere. Mr. Dawes not having denied any of the matters which are libellous, and having enquired of mercantile men of the usages and customs of the Stock Exchange, I must dismiss the case.

Robbery by a Trooper, and his Apprehension.—On the 19th March, John Bourke, the orderly trooper in the service of Mr. Commissioner Durbin, was entrusted with a sum of £137, which had reached Tamworth by the escort, and which Bourke was to deliver to a person on the gold field. This was on Saturday, the 19th March. Instead of doing so, Bourke absconded that same night with the money from the camp on the Peel, and appears to have purchased with part of it a horse, saddle, and bridle. At nine o'clock on Sunday morning information was given of the absconding, and the sergeant and a party of the Hanging Rock gold police were instantly despatched in pursuit. They traced out Bourke's course, and by seven o'clock that evening had him in custody, having apprehended him about fifty miles from the Peel camp. This speedy capture reflects great credit on the sergeant and his party. On Bourke's person £114 10s. of the money was found, the remainder of the £137 having been expended as above mentioned. A reward of £20 has been offered by Government for Bourke's apprehension, information of the robbery having, we presume, been instantly forwarded down from Tamworth.—Maitland Mercury.

Important Sale of City Property.—We are requested to direct the particular attention of capitalists and parties desirous of securing a really good investment for their money, to the important sale of the Bethel Church Wharf, and Outbuildings, the whole of which will be sold without the slightest reserve, this morning, by Messrs. Bowden and Threlkeld, at their rooms, 474, George-street, also eight agricultural Farms, varying from 24 to 30 acres, situated in the Kissing Point District, near St. Anne's Church, and adjoining Mr. Richard Hill's Orangery.

Squatters and others will please, remember that Mr. Mort sells to-day, those famous stations "Bergen-op-Zoom," and "Ward's Mistake"—two rare opportunities to invest profitably. The allotments at the Glebe, and the house at O'Connell Town, will also be offered.

MELBOURNE MARKETS.

MELBOURNE, 31st March, 1853.—Since we last waited on you, there has been a very active demand in this market for all kinds of produce; and though it has somewhat slackened during the last few days, there is still a large and healthy business doing. The imports of the month have not increased, and the immigrants are 3668 souls.

Breadstuffs began to rise in the early part of the month, and Flour was placed at £33 and £34 per ton for small lots, and is now worth £31 and £32 per ton. Wheat and Barley have attracted less notice, but Oats have been eagerly bought up, and are now worth 20s. and 21s. per bushel. Maize sold to-day for 18s. 6d. cracked, and Bran is worth 4s. per bushel. These extreme rates seem to limit the consumption, and when we glance at the import list below, and reflect on the numerous places beyond the colonies from whence we are drawing wheat, flour, and oats, we can anticipate nothing but constant fluctuation in the prices of these articles. Potatoes are in better supply, and cheaper. Fruit is also more plentiful, but Jams come sparingly to hand, and rule high.

Bacon, Hams, Cheese, and Butter, have all risen to extreme rates, and are very saleable.

Wines and Spirits are scarce, especially Port and Martell's Brandy, which latter is worth 17s. per gallon.

Sugar has become very scarce, and has advanced in price; but Tea is plentiful, and has declined a little.

Building Materials have been in great demand, at high rates, but Timber has fallen in price within the last few days, the trade being fully supplied for the present.

The storekeepers at the diggings have been making strenuous efforts to provide themselves with ample supplies against winter, and large quantities of goods have been got up to the different stations. The Gold per Escort has fallen 25 per cent. this month, and is only 169,654 ounces; but we are disposed to believe (in the absence of complaints) that this arises less from the want of success than from the adoption of other modes of transit. The price has been steady at 77s. for the last fourteen days.

Wool has come in very sparingly, and has been sold at advanced rates; best qualities 21d. and 22d., greasy 9d. to 11d. per lb. Freight to London, 1½d. per lb.

COFFEY, HILL, and CO.

PARRAMATTA.

CHARGE OF HORSE-STEALING.—Noah Beal, apprehended by warrant, appeared before Messrs. Fearon, Simpson, and Captain Finch, justices of peace, to answer the above charge, preferred by Mr. Charles Roberts of Wallgrove. The prosecutor, being sworn, deposed: On my coming to Parramatta on Thursday last, I heard that the horse Cossack (one half of which belongs to me) had been removed from Wallgrove without my approval. I learnt that a man named M'Grath had gone with Beal and taken away the horse, and hearing where he was, I went to Brotherwood's stables in Parramatta, in company with Mr. Lyons, and saw Beal grooming the horse; I asked him how he came to take away the horse without my knowledge? He replied that he had nothing to do with me, but received his orders from a gentleman; I said do you know that one-half of the horse is my property? he said he did not care a d——n; I went and got a warrant and had him apprehended, and gave the horse in charge to Brotherwood: can produce an agreement certifying that I have the sole management and control of the horse; also, a receipt for £250, payment for my share. Defendant admitted he took the horse, by the order of Mr. John Tait, his employer, and owner of the horse. Cross-examined by defendant—I do not know that Mr. Tait sent you or M'Grath for the horse. For the defence—Mr. Tait being sworn, deposed, I am an innkeeper, and reside in Sydney; I sent to Wallgrove for Beal, to take the horse, one-half of which is my property; and Mr. Roberts has nothing to do with the defendant; Mr. Roberts was with me the day before, and made arrangements for the removal of the horse Cossack, and understood the matter. The Bench informed the prosecutor that no evidence had been produced to prove a larceny, and Mr. Lyons, who appeared for the prosecution, stated that a misunderstanding had taken place, when their worships dismissed the case.

FAMILY BRAWLS.—Mr. Adams, coach-trimmer, preferred an information against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Teasdell, for calling him a "vagabond;" and also against his brother-in-law, for saying to him "you are no man." Mr. John Jefferson Overton appeared for the defendants, and took an objection to the information, stating that it was laid down in law that no information should contain more than one offence, but that for each offence separate informations should be exhibited. In the present instance there were two separate offences, committed at separate times and places. Their worships admitted that Mr. Overton's objection was fatal; and therefore dismissed the case.

RISK OF PROPERTY.—Scarcely a day passes but instances occur in which the owners of property have to commit to the care of drunken and worthless fellows, loads of goods, of a most valuable nature. On Friday evening last, a man of the name of Jack Robinson was coming through the town with a team of six fine horses, a dray, and seemingly an expensive load of goods; he was so drunk that he repeatedly fell against his horses. Mr. Ryan secured the property and team, and placed the man in the lock-up for the night. This no doubt saved his life. He had nothing to say in his defence, and the Bench reprimanded, and sentenced him to pay a fine of five shillings. Having nothing to pay, he was ordered to the cells for twenty-four hours, but Mr. Jones, pawnbroker, to whom the fellow was a perfect stranger, said he would rather pay the fine than see the team and goods detained; and so Jack Robinson got off. Mr. Dorset's name was on the dray.

Nhu-tee, a native of China, and an indented servant to William Lawson, Esq., of Prospect, was apprehended by warrant, and brought before the Court. The Celestial, it appears, had been sojourning three months in gaol, evidently to his delight, for he remarked on going there, "very good gaol, no make work, plenty of chow chow." On Monday last he got his release, but instead of going back to his work rambled about. When asked by the Bench whether he would go to work, said, "Yes, if master give me one pound, if not walk all about." After much persuasion he consented to return, and was therefore discharged.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

THE NORTHERN GOLD FIELDS.

(From the Maitland Mercury.)

HANGING ROCK AND PEEL.

Swamp Oak, near Tamworth, March 22.—I have just returned from a visit to the Hanging Rock.

The Peel, and the Swamp Creek on the Rock are nearly deserted; but there are about 600 people crowded on Hookanvil, and on the dry diggings which are along the road on the top of the rock.

From the steady activity with which the diggers carry on their operations, and from the scarcity of abandoned claims as well as the scarcity of dissatisfied prospectors, I am inclined to think their prospects are most favourable.

At the dry diggings the shafts are a considerable depth, and the earth mostly dry, and of a firm character, so that tunnelling is there pursued to advantage. But at Hookanvil tunnelling would be most unsafe, for the earth is saturated with water, and of a loose nature; the whole of it therefore is required to be removed. Gold digging at Hookanvil is no easy matter, for the diggers have usually about sixteen feet of drift to remove, and then it requires a strong party to get the washing stuff out, for they have no pumps, and the water is very troublesome.

For richness the Hookanvil ravine will, I think, bear comparison with any place of its kind in the colony. Quartz rocks are far from being numerous in its immediate neighbourhood. The Hanging Rock (formed of trap) towers high above on the western side, and the ridge on the other side is almost entirely formed of serpentine.

SWAMP OAK CREEK, March 28.—This creek joins the Peel a few miles above Tamworth, and is the main tributary of that river. Although it was the first stream in the northern districts in which gold was found, it has been greatly neglected by the gold prospectors, more especially on the heads of its tributary creeks, which will be found to be the richest if it resemble the Peel.

On the lower part of the creek one party of men have certainly worked for some months without any great success. But they, even with the addition of a fresh party of men who have lately come, are insufficient to give it a trial, and it cannot be called tried until it is worked by a large mining population. The former party whom I have mentioned consists of four persons, and they told me they had averaged upwards of half an ounce throughout every day of this week. And the latter, which is a larger party, worked alongside of them on Friday and to-day, and made in these two days upwards of an ounce and a half of gold.

The part of the point on which they are at work is sometimes called by diggers the high water mark deposit. The bed rock there is within three feet of the surface, and the diggers find it most profitable to throw away the surface gravel until within a foot of the rock, and wash the remainder of it. The gold dust is a mixture of scaly and granular particles; the scales are frequently found almost as broad as our silver threepenny coin, and one granular piece obtained to-day weighed upwards of two pennyweights.

This creek has only been worked on three points, and that to a very limited extent, and on one of those points they have not even dug down to the rock. I do not think there are above half a dozen shafts sunk elsewhere on the creek.

When I was at the Turon I remembered the character of the upper part of this creek, and, from its strong resemblance to many parts of that river, I thought it would be found highly auriferous; and now I do not see any reason to change my opinion. Both the Rev. Mr. Clarke and Mr. Hargraves, I am informed, expressed a high opinion of the auriferous indications of the country which sheds its waters into this creek.

HANGING ROCK, MARCH 31.—The diggings are turning out much the same; plenty of people coming in, and few going away, and all appear to be doing well. It is the opinion of experienced diggers from the Turon, and all the other diggers, that these are the richest diggings yet. The dry diggings are turning out something better this than last week.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

CHARCOAL.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to make public a fraud, which I am told is by no means uncommon. I purchased a load of charcoal for my "Graveley" (from a man whom I casually met in George-street), as I thought cheap, at 11d. (eleven pence) per bag. The driver represented the load to consist of 80 bags. My suspicions being roused at the large quantity for a single horse-load, I determined narrowly to watch the delivery, which I did, in a position unobserved by the driver. I counted bag by bag as it was shot out into my yard, and made 55 bags. The driver then knocked at my door, and requested me to see the empty bags counted, which I did, and he counted 80 bags, for which he demanded payment at 11d., £3 13s. 4d. On my protesting against the fraud, and showing him that I would not be cheated without the intervention of the police, he accepted payment for the true quantity, 55, at 11d. £2 10s. 5d. Now had I not detected him, instead of a cheap load of charcoal I should have paid at the rate of 1s. 4d. per bag. Thus 80 at 11d., £3. 13s. 4d.! actual quantity 55, at 1s. 4d., £3 13s. 4d. I trust this will put the public on their guard against such frauds,

And am,

GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 1853.

IMPOUNDINGS.

MOREE.—March 14. From Tycannah; damages for trespass and driving 4s. each: Brown mare, long tail, hind fetlock white, star, saddle marked, P near neck, no other brand visible; a bay filly foal by her, unbranded. Bay entire horse, long tail, star, if branded not visible. Chesnut horse, long tail, M over 7 near shoulder. If not released they will be sold in 24 days from 1st April. J. J. BRAND. 10s.

MERRIWA.—From Cullingral Estate: One chesnut mare, long tail, blaze down the face, near hind foot white, no brand visible. Chesnut filly, long tail, three white feet, no brand visible. Black gelding pony, switch tail, blaze down the forehead, CP off shoulder. Bay horse, long tail, like C near shoulder, 9 off shoulder; driving 1s., trespass 6d. each. Also, from the Gammon Estate: Bay horse, long tail, near hind foot white, blaze down the forehead, W near shoulder, hobble on off foot. Chesnut mare, blaze down the forehead, star brand off shoulder, R near shoulder. Chesnut filly, both hind legs white, blaze down the face, R near shoulder; damages 6d. each. If not released, they will be sold on the 22nd April. J. TOBIN. 12s.

SETTLER'S HOME.—March 27. From Canterbury, Liverpool Road: Bay mare, D on shoulder, black points, long tail: a chesnut foal by her side, blaze down the face, about 3 months old. Bay filly, with enlargement on her side, like B on ribs, star in forehead. Black filly, no brand visible, about 2 years old; damages 3s. each. If not released, they will be sold on the 25th April. C. WHITNEY. 10s.

HAWAIIAN WOOL.—We have seen a sample of a superior quality of wool, from a clip of 5,000 lbs. by Macy and Louzada, of Waimea, Hawaii. It is a beautiful strong staple, and we understand pays well to ship to Sydney. Messrs. M. and L. expect to have about 10,000 sheep to shear next season. There is nothing easier raised on many parts of these islands than sheep, and large tracts of land are only adapted to the grazing of sheep. Why not devote more effort to producing wool, now that the islands are overstocked with cattle? If wool will pay to ship to Sydney, and thence to England, how much better will it pay to ship direct, either to England or the United States?—Polynesian.

COTTON.—A vessel arrived in London, from Barbadoes, has brought sixty-nine bales of cotton as a portion of her cargo, the produce of that island. A recent arrival to a similar extent took place from Demerara, and this unusually large importation of the kind from one of the British West India Islands is of interest and importance.

MATRIMONIAL TIFFS.—I have frequently remarked that a guest has become the paste and cement of two married quarrelling halves, because shame and necessity have obliged them to speak and be friendly to one another, at least so long as the guest was listening. Every married lord should be provided with one or two guests who might come in to relieve his sufferings when the mistress of the house happened to have the devil of dumbness in her body; for she must talk at least so long as the gentlemen are present, and take out of her mouth the iron thief-apple of silence, which grows on the same stalk as the apple of discord.—Jean Paul Ritcher.

BIRTHS.

On the 12th ultimo, on board the General Palmer, off Cape Lewis, Mrs. T. Beckford Simpson, of a daughter.

On the 3rd instant, at her residence, George-street, Mrs. F. R. Robinson, of a daughter.

At Surry Hills, on the 3rd instant, the wife of the Reverend J. Morris, of a daughter.

On the 4th instant, in George-street South, Mrs. M. Hock, of a son.

MARRIED.

ICE.—The undersigned desire to notify to the inhabitants of Sydney that they have, at considerable trouble and expense, undertaken the introduction into the Australian market of one of the greatest luxuries in a hot climate, namely a cargo of the best quality Boston Ice, and trust that their endeavours in the present instance will meet with such encouragement as may warrant a permanent and constant supply being imported throughout the year. Their senior having been some time in the United States, where this article is consumed to an immense extent, has made himself acquainted with every proper means for its packing and preservation, and will thus be enabled to supply the markets of Melbourne, Bathurst, Maitland, Moreton Bay, and any of the adjacent towns in quantities that may be required, so that the wastage in transmission may be comparatively trifling.

Physicians attribute, in a great measure, the healthiness of the New England States of America to the free use of Ice, particularly in water, to which it imparts a liveliness not previously possessed.

Those who have already experienced the grateful influence of its use, in the manufacture of Ice cream, the hardening of butter, the cooling of the various kinds of beverages, viz., water, wines, beer, lemonade, soda water, fruits, &c., &c., will not require much persuasion to avail of the present opportunity, and those who have not, should not let it pass unheeded.

Hotel and bar keepers are reminded that by the use of Ice they will find their trade increase to a considerable extent.

Apply to the undersigned, to the care of Messrs. Thacker and Co., 451, George-street, 9212 WATKINS AND SPARROW.

ICE.—ICE.—ICE.—In returning thanks to his numerous customers for this delicious beverage, so well worthy the patronage it has received, the undersigned begs to assure them that he has engaged for a supply of cream fresh from a country dairy daily, which will enable him to defy competition, and finding a great request for Ice, he will supply his customers with this article at the lowest possible charge, so as merely to cover the expense of carriage from the wharf. T. W. FOSTER, Old Bride Cake Establishment, 518, George-street, Sydney. N.B.—Moulds of Ice, garnished with leaves and fruits, variegated colours, in the first possible style. MR. CHARLES NEWTON has received instructions from Messrs. Lamb, Parbury, and Co., to sell by auction, at his Rooms, on FRIDAY, the 8th instant, at Eleven o'clock,
The British built brig
VULTURE,
163 6-10 tons O. M., but capable of carrying nearly 300 tons.
This splendid brig was built of English oak, at Shaldon, Devon, and underwent a thorough repair in 1849 at an expense of £500, when she was classed A 1 for three years.
She was sheathed with yellow metal (Muntz's) in June, 1851, when she was likewise furnished with new fore and main lower rigging, and, in fact, supplied with the very best of every requisite.
She is well found in every respect, having two full suits of sails, one of which was bent this voyage off the Cape for the first time.
She has proved herself to be a clipper, having made the passage from Oporto in the unprecedented space of 104 days.
The inventory is full and complete in every respect. Her ground tackle consists of 2 best Bowers, 1 Sheet, 1 Stream, 1 Kedge, and 1 Grapline.
CHAINS.
Best Bower 105 fathoms
Small ditto 90 "
Stream 80 "
1 Towline 90 fathoms
2 Warps 4½ inches, 130 fathoms
1 Ditto 2½ " 120 "
The inventory of sails, anchors, chains, boats, stores, &c. &c., can be seen at the Rooms.
To parties in want of a really money-making vessel, this is an opportunity that rarely occurs. For the New Zealand or Melbourne trade she would undoubtedly clear herself in one trip.
Terms at sale. 221

BETHEL CHURCH AND WHARF.
The splendid Freehold Property in Darling Harbour, so well known as the Bethel Chapel, together with the adjoining Waterside Premises, known as Williams' Coal Wharf.
For absolute sale, in one Lot.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions from the Trustees of the Bethel Union, under authority of a special Act of Council, to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, THIS DAY, Tuesday, the 5th April, at 12 o'clock precisely,
That Magnificent Central Waterside Property, situate at the foot of Erskine-street, (to which it has a large frontage) upon which is erected that substantial stone built edifice known as the Mariner's Church; together with the extensive wharf and out-buildings adjoining the same, now in the occupation of Mr. J. C. Williams, as a Coal Depôt, and described in Deeds, as all that piece or parcel of land, containing fifteen and a half perches. Allotment number 14, of section number 55; bounded on the south by a line bearing east 15·30·, north 121 links; on the east by allotment No. 15, bearing west 15·30, west 76 links; on the north by Erskine-street, bearing west 15·30, south 136 links, and on the west by Darling Harbour.
In bringing this valuable Property before the public, the auctioneers feel that no representation on their part is needed, to point out the immense advantages it possesses, or the impossibility in the present day of procuring a spot like it for any money. Its position is the most central and naturally advantageous that could be desired, having easy access to the very centre of the city, and sufficient depth of water at the extremity of the wharf for a vessel of 500 tons to discharge.
The Building at present used as the Chapel, is a very large and substantial edifice, built of stone, in excellent order, and capable, at a very moderate expense, of being converted into a Dwelling-house, or Store and Office. The dimensions are 24½ x 50 feet, with a height of about 30 feet. The wharf adjoining the above has a frontage to Erskine street, and to the waters of Darling Harbour, with all the rights and privileges of extension, subject to the approval of the government.
For the use of any New Steam Company, or for a mercantile House requiring central and commodious waterside premises—a better spot it would be impossible to select. The New Cut of Wynyard-street, across the Barrack-square, brings it within three minutes' walk of the Post Office and Banks, and on the erection of the New Post Office in York-street, this property being within a few hundred yards distance, must be immensely enhanced in value
Any capitalist seeking secure and profitable investment would do well to watch this sale, for though at present the Wharf is let but at £120 per annum, yet as immediate possession will be given to the purchaser, three times that amount may be confidently relied on.
Title, being a sale under authority of a specia Act of Council, is unquestionable.
Further particulars can be ascertained on application to the Auctioneer; or the offices of Messrs. Allen and Son, solicitors, Elizabeth-street.
Terms—25 per cent. deposit; the remainder at three, six, nine, and twelve months, WITHOUT INTEREST. 8528

PICKLED CODFISH
PICKLED TROUT
Ex Cheetah, from Labrador, just landed in excellent condition.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd), have received instructions to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, on FRIDAY next, the 8th instant, at 11 o'clock,
Ex Cheetah, from Labrador,
6 tierces pickled codfish, each 300 lbs.
9 barrels pickled trout, each 200 lbs.
☞ The auctioneers have much pleasure in directing particular attention to the above choice lot of salted fish, being a portion of the first and only importation of the kind to this colony. Intending purchasers will do well to avail themselves of this favourable opportunity of securing a genuine article.
Terms at sale. 508

FARMS AT KISSING POINT.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions to sell by public auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, THIS DAY, Tuesday, the 5th April, at 11 o'clock precisely,
Eight Agricultural Farms, varying in extent from 24 to 30 acres each, situated in the Kissing Point District, at no very great distance from the beautiful little Church of St. Ann's, which is about equidistant from these farms as from the wharves in front, at which the steamers call twice at least every day.
These farms adjoin the well-known residence and orchards of the late Abraham Payne, (which is in sight of the church) famous for its superiour fruit and garden produce for the last 30 years. The splendid orchard of Mr. Jupp is on the opposite side of one of the roads, which bounds three of these farms on the side nearest to the Parramatta River, while each of the farms has a frontage to a high road leading to a navigable branch of the Lane Cove River.
The Common, of several thousand acres, forms the eastern boundaries of lots 1 and 4, affording to the purchasers a direct outlet for depasturing their working or dairy cattle, and giving to each proprietor the additional advantages of a right to abundance of fuel and timber for building purposes, when the supply from their own lands may become exhausted.
Most of these farms have an immense quantity of the original timber still standing, which is now of great value, and in daily demand for the Sydney market by the numerous boatmen who work on the river. The land, when cleared will therefore be new, possessing all its primitive qualities—no small consideration to the agriculturist or market gardener. Any amount of produce may be readily conveyed to Sydney, by either the Parramatta or Lane Cove Rivers, or with drays by crossing in the punt at Bedlam Point.
Lot 1 contains 27 acres, has a frontage to two government roads, and is bounded by the common, having an arm of the Lane Cove River running into it
Lot 4 is of the same extent, and bounded by the common, as lot 1
Lots 2 and 3 contain 24 acres each, are parallel with the late Mr. Payne's farm, and are bounded north and south by the same government roads, lot three being bounded on one side by Mr. Payne's orchard
Lots 5 and 6 are on the opposite side of the road to lots 2 and 3, have frontages to two government roads, and contain 24 acres each
Lot 7 contains 30 acres, and is separated from Payne's land by a wide road leading to a wharf on a branch of the Lane Cove River, must frequented by timber dealers
Lot 8 demands especial notice, having been cleared, well fenced, and a great part cultivated; an orchard has been in full bearing several years, a little cottage is placed upon a beautiful hill commanding a fine view of the orchards and houses in the neighbourhood. The present owner has had a tempting offer for this excellent little farm of 30 acres, known by the residents as "Hannah Newton's Farm," parallel with Payne's land, bu separated from it by a government road of 330 feet wide.
The auctioneers feel satisfied that the mere description of these farms is quite sufficient to bring them under the notice of horticulturists or gentlemen requiring a site for a villa, homestead, and orchard at a short distance from the great metropolis of the south, which may be approached by land or water in less than two hours.
A plan of the properties, and sketch of the local position, is now on view at the rooms of the auctioneers.
Title unexceptionable, particulars of which may be had on appliation to Messrs. Allen and Son, solicitors, Elizabeth-street.
Terms, liberal. 9634

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions from the importers to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, on WEDNESDAY, 6th April, at 11 o'clock,
Eight cases of paper hangings, from one of the first British manufactories, being a selection made with great care, of the newest designs, and richest patterns in every possible variety, either for the plain Cottage or the elaborate Drawing-room.
The trade, buyers for export, and private parties are invited to avail themselves of this very seasonable supply, which for excellence in every respect has not yet been equalled in the colony.
Packages will be found for wholesale purchasers.
Terms at sale. 10192

COTTAGE AND FARM AT LANE COVE.
Allotments in the Township of Victoria, and at Battersea, Parish of Concord.

BOWDEN AND THRELKELD (successors to George A. Lloyd) have been favoured with instructions to sell by auction, at the City Mart, 474, George-street, on THURSDAY next, the 7th of April,
A Cottage and Small Farm, situated at Lane Cove, bein part of the Estate of D. D. Matthews, Esq., known as Rosedale, comprising fifteen acres, two roods, and twenty perches; on which is erected a two-roomed Cottage, stabling for four horses, with room for hay and corn. It is well supplied with good water.
This valuable little Farm contains some choice land for gardening, or an orchard, of which about eight acres have been cleared. It is close to the orchard of Richard Hill, Esq. so famous for the superiority of its fruits. The distance, from Sydney, by way of the steamer at Blue's Ferry, is about eight miles.
Persons wishing to view the premises may do so by applying to Mr. Owen M'Mahon, publican, Lane Cove.
After which,
Will be sold some allotments in the township of Victoria, county of Bathurst, and an allotment at Battersea, parish of Concord.
Terms at sale. 58

GOOD BRICK COTTAGE AT O'CONNELL TOWN,
Near St. John's Tavern, the other side of the Turnpike.

MR. MORT has been instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, Tuesday, April 5, at 11 o'clock,
A well-built substantial brick cottage, situate in Egan-street, O'Connell Town, having a frontage of 26 feet, with a depth of 88 feet.
It contains 4 rooms, and has a verandah at the back.
There is a good well of water, and a three-stalled stable, well shingled, and a pleasant garden in the rear.
The premises are in thorough good repair, and were faithfully erected, as may be seen upon inspection, which the proprietor, Mr. Bowers, particularly invites from intending purchasers.
☞ This comfortable and compact cottage is worthy the attention of those requiring a residence in this healthy locality, only one mile from the city.
Terms at sale. 10331

CAPITAL STATION ON THE DARLING DOWNS, KNOWN AS "STONEHENGE."
Together with 8000 Sheep.

MR. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his New Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on FRIDAY, 8th April, at 11 o'clock,
The Station of
"STONEHENGE,"
on the Canning Creek, in the favourite district of the Darling Downs, with 8000 sheep (more or less), the property of H. Stuart Russell, Esq.
This run is perfectly sound, and well watered.
The sheep depasturing on February 11 in the present year comprised—
2500 ewes, of ages
1400 old wethers
1700 young wethers
2300 weaners
100 rams
8000 more or less
of sheep, the same being in a most healthy and thriving condition.
THE IMPROVEMENTS
consist of—
One four-room dwelling
One five ditto ditto
Two men's huts
Four shepherds' ditto
1 wool shed and lever press
200 hurdles
5 large rough yards
&c. &c. &c.
☞ The above property is being disposed of in consequence of the proprietor not being able to superintend it, in conjunction with his other runs. The locality, improvements, extent of run, and character of the sheep under this squattage, is well worthy the attention of parties wishing to become proprietors of sheep.
☞ The average weight of fleece shorn from the above sheep this season was 2¼ lbs.
Terms may be arranged on application to the Auctioneer. 7502

EIGHT ALLOTMENTS AT BLACKWATTLE SWAMP,
Being part of the celebrated market gardens of Mr. Edward Owens.

MR. MORT is instructed to sell at his Rooms, Pitt-street, THIS DAY, Tuesday, the 5th April, 1853, at 11 o'clock,
Eight valuable building allotments, situate at Blackwattle Swamp.
These allotments have frontages to Glebe-street, varying from 26 feet to 32 feet, with an uniform depth of 80 feet.
They are immediately in the rear of Mr. Hardiman's property, and adjoin also that of Mr. Owens.
☞ Being in such close vicinity to that great thoroughfare Parramatta-street, they offer a good opportunity to small capitalists to invest their savings to advantage. Property in this neighbourhood, is becoming more valuable every day, as the increase of population, and the consequent extension of the business portions of the city, prove.
The title first-rate, being grant from the Crown by purchase.
Terms at sale.
A plan may be seen at the room.
THERE WILL BE NO RESERVE. 9443

BERGEN-OP-ZOOM.
Indisputably the Gem of the New England Stations.
☞ By order of the attorneys of the heirs of the late John M'Lean, Esq., with positive instructions to sell.

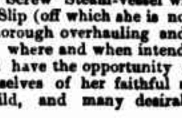

MR. MORT is instructed by the attorneys of the heirs of the late John M'Lean, Esq., to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, George-street, THIS DAY, Tuesday, the 5th April, at Eleven o'clock,
That unrivalled and Magnificent Run, known as
BERGEN-OP-ZOOM,
with the choice flocks now upon it, consisting of the following, as per return of 22nd February last:—

Ewes, 3 years old	1150
" 4 ditto	1160
" 5 ditto	1170
Wethers 4 ditto	1230
" 2 ditto	1440
Hoggets, male and female	1862
Flock of mixed ages and sexes	1728
Rams	82
Lambs of last September	3340
More or less	13,162

57 Rams of the above number were selected last year from the first class merinos of the Australian Agricultural Company, and 25 from the flocks of Mr. Marsh.
They are all young sheep.
The mixed flock of 1728, with the exception of about 100 head, consists of lambs, hoggets, and other young sheep.
The above sheep are
WARRANTED SOUND AND NEVER DISEASED, and as the fattening nature of the run has always enabled the manager to fatten such stock as he wished, he has regularly culled all the inferior and old sheep for boiling, leaving the whole of the flocks now on the run undoubtedly first-class sheep, both as regards size and quality of wool.
THE STATION
is too well known by every person acquainted with the New England District to need comment. Suffice it to repeat what is above stated, and the auctioneer does so advisedly—"it is unquestionably the very best run in the district."
THE IMPROVEMENTS
are very complete, and in keeping with the wants of so extensive an establishment, comprising amongst others, the following, viz.—
Cottage of four rooms, with detached kitchen and store, shingled
Overseer's dwelling, of four rooms, shingled.
Five servants' huts
Substantial barn
Two three-stalled stables
Boiling-house, with pots complete, and rooms attached for storing tallow and skins, also tool-house.
Capital wool-shed, 100 feet by 28 feet, very complete; shingled, floored, and battened, with bins for wool classing, strong lever press; also a paved yard attached, and substantial drafting yards
Stockyard
Two cultivation paddocks, of thirty-three acres
Grazing paddock, of 400 acres
Seven substantial huts at out-stations
Hurdles for 20,000 sheep, &c., &c.
The Station is in effective working condition, with drays, tarpaulins, about 30 working bullocks, 4 draught and 6 saddle horses, with a good supply of stores, flour, and wheat. The estimated carrying capabilities are to fatten 20,000!
☞ Most earnestly is the attention of capitalists called to this sale, for it is no figure of speech to say that under proper management, a few years will suffice to make a fortune out of the property.
Intending purchasers are especially invited to confer with the Auctioneer upon the advantages connected with this concern, and which can be shown in actual figures to have within it the means for obtaining a result scarcely to be credited, save by those who have been reaping a golden harvest out of sheep purchases, made within the last few years. 7500

WEEKLY PRODUCE SALE.
Wool, Tallow, Sheepskins, Hides.

MR. MORT will sell by public auction, at his Produce Store, Circular Quay, on THURSDAY, April 7th, at 11 o'clock,
293 Bales wool
18 Casks tallow
2197 Sheepskins
28 Hides.
Terms, cash. 506

THE CITY OF MELBOURNE STEAMER.
☞ This fine Screw Steam-vessel will be on the Patent Slip (off which she is now lying) to have a thorough overhauling and refit in a few days, where and when intending purchasers will have the opportunity of satisfying themselves of her faithful and substantial build, and many desirable qualities.

MR. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 8th of April, at 11 o'clock,
The fine Screw Steam-vessel
CITY OF MELBOURNE,
built under special inspection at Melbourne in 1851, of the very best materials, and in the most workmanlike style.
Her burthen as per register is 181 tons (including the space occupied by the engines, viz., 42 tons), and, as will be found upon inspection, is capable of carrying a very large cargo. Her length is 132 feet over all, her width 18 5-10 feet, and her depth of hold 8 5-10 feet.
She is fitted with a pair of oscillating engines (made by that celebrated maker, Penn, of Greenwich,) of the collective power of 32 horses. She has a tubular boiler, of the best description, which is in excellent order.
She has very superior accommodation for passengers, having been fitted up as a passenger vessel for the trade between Launceston and Melbourne.
☞ The many lucrative openings for the employment of a vessel of this description all along the line of coast, to say nothing of the magnificent returns which may be obtained in the Melbourne and Launceston trade, suggests this vessel as one of the most desirable and profitable investments for capital which could possibly be made in Sydney.
From her great strength, and light draught of water, she is admirably adapted for bar harbours, and would pay handsomely in the Hunter River, Clarence, Richmond, or Moreton Bay trade—in all of which such a steamer is most urgently required.
Terms and all further particulars on application at Mr. Mort's Office; or at the Office of Messrs. Willis, Merry, and Co. 5888

THE CHEETAH, BRIGANTINE,
120 Tons new measurement, and 130 Tons old measurement, built of Irish Oak, the most enduring of all descriptions of Timber.

MR. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, 6th April, at 11 o'clock,
The fast-sailing brigantine Cheetah, 120 tons new measurement, and 130 tons old measurement.
She was faithfully built at Cork, in 1839, of the very best oak, expressly for her present owners; is copper-fastened and sheathed with heavy Muntz patent metal. To a large carrying capacity she combines the great advantages of speed and dryness, and has brought a large cargo of fish from Labrador, which she is now landing in excellent condition.
She is well found in sails and all other requisites, has a patent windlass winch, and is ready to be sent to sea at a day's notice.
Inventories and further particulars may be obtained, on application to the auctioneer.
Intending purchasers are invited to inspect the vessel, at the Circular Quay.
Terms at sale. 10194

MOST IMPORTANT SALE of Buildings and other Properties, situate at Paddington, with two Farms at Lane Cove, and Farms Land at Kiama.
☞ By order of Messrs. Brodie and Craig, in consequence of their dissolving their partnership.
A positive sale, without any reserve.

MR. MORT has received instructions from Messrs. Brodie and Craig to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 18th April, at 11 o'clock,
The following highly valuable Freeholds, which are divided into lots, according to the particulars hereunder, and set forth upon plans, which may be seen at the Rooms.
PLAN No. 1.
LOTS Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 are four beautiful allotments at Paddington, commanding a delightful view of the Harbour and Heads, and as from the position of the land there is no chance of their enviable view being interfered with, they present the most valuable sites for building upon. These allotments are situate on the north side of Gipps-street, having an immediate line of communication with the South Head Road by Brodie-street. The frontage to Gipps-street is 100 feet, with depths varying from 180 feet to 237 feet.
LOT 5 is situate on the south side of Gipps-street. It comprises THREE WEATHERBOARD COTTAGES, each containing two rooms and a kitchen, with convenient yards; they have a frontage of 52 feet to Gipps-street, with a depth of 40 feet to Brodie-street.
LOT 6 is situate on the west side of Brodie-street, and comprises FOUR WEATHERBOARD COTTAGES, each containing two rooms and a kitchen, with convenient yards; they occupy a frontage of 70 feet to Brodie-street, with a depth of 50 feet.
LOT 7 adjoins the above, and has a frontage to Brodie-street, more or less, with a depth of 50 feet. On this allotment are some sheds and part of a Weatherboard Building.
LOT 8 adjoins No. 7, and is similarly situated; it has a frontage of 25 feet to Brodie-street, with a depth of 50 feet. On this allotment there is part of a Weatherboard Building.
LOT 9 is the "GREENWOOD TREE" PUBLIC-HOUSE, which occupies a frontage of 25 feet to the South Head Old Road, with a side entrance of 8 feet, which can be built over; the depth of this allotment is 80 feet.
The house, which is stone built, contains the following apartments, viz., ground floor, large bar, parlour, tap room, and small back room.
1st Floor. Two bedrooms, and a large dining-room. Attic, four bedrooms. Detached kitchen, with servants' room above. Two-stall stable and coach house.
There is a splendid well of water with force pump on the premises.
There is also a spacious cellar, to which there are two entrances.
The bar fixtures, having pipes laid on to the cellar, forms, kitchen fixtures, &c., will be sold with the house, or separately, as desired.
☞ It may be mentioned that this is the oldest established public-house in the neighbourhood, and one in which the tenant has realised independence.
LOT 10 is a vacant allotment, having a frontage of 20 feet to the South Head Road, with a depth of 80 feet to Brodie-street.
LOT 11. Upon this allotment stands a SUBSTANTIAL AND WELL FINISHED TWO STORIED BRICK HOUSE, containing five rooms, kitchen, and extensive bakehouse, fitted up with two first-rate ovens. The premises occupy a frontage of 24 feet to the South Head Road, having a depth of 120 feet to Brodie-street, including a Weatherboard Cottage situate in that street.
The accommodations of this house can be considerably increased in the roof at a small cost, and without the slightest injury to the premises, in the building of which the roof was framed for three attic rooms, party wall built, and floor framed for stairs; the requisite openings for the attic windows in the roof being also framed, to prevent injury to the slates.
LOT 12 is situate on the east side of Brodie-street, to which it has a frontage of 73 feet. On this lot are FOUR WEATHERBOARD COTTAGES, each containing two rooms, with convenient yards.
LOT 13 is a vacant allotment facing Gipps-street, to which it has a frontage of 23 feet, with a depth of 60 feet to Brodie-street, and opposite to Lot 7.
There is a SPLENDID WELL, which is securely enclosed, and which is reserved for the use of the whole of the property.
PLAN No. 2
IS ONE LOT, upon which stands that desirable and substantially stone-built FAMILY RESIDENCE, which contains as follows:—
On the basement story, large kitchen, servants' room, larder, coal cellar, back area with sink. Ground floor, hall, and four large rooms, attic, two large bedrooms, and two large presses. Front verandah.
The out-offices consist of coach house and stable and poultry shed.
There is a good well of water, extensive yard, and large garden.
The cottage faces Gipps-street, to which it has a frontage of 50 feet, with side entrance; the depth is 208 feet, extending to the South Head Road.
PLAN No. 3
Exhibits TWO SMALL FARMS, ON THE LANE COVE RIVER, close to the Government Wharf.
No. 1 Farm contains 3 acres and 3 roods; No. 2, 6 acres and 1 rood.
PLAN No. 4
Shews the position of the Kiama property, being Lot No. 1 of section No. 1.
PLAN No. 5
Shews the position of an ALLOTMENT IN UPPER PADDINGTON, being a corner allotment, situate in Underwood-street and Albert-street, having a frontage of 28 feet to the latter street and 60 feet to the former street.
 This is one of the most important sales which has come before the public for some time, and as it is absolute and unreserved for the purposes of closing partnership accounts to a point, it is well worthy of attention.
The plans are open for inspection at the rooms; the titles are first-rate, and the terms will be liberal.
Remember Monday, the 18th of April.
